Nepra Foods Launches Flagship PROPASTA Brand on Amazon

Initial Amazon test launch introduces PROPASTA's new 16 oz pouch, expanding direct-to-consumer access to the Company's high-protein, high-fiber pasta

CENTENNIAL, Colo., October 9, 2026 – Nepra Foods Inc. (CSE: NPRA) (FSE: 2P6) (OTCQB: NPRFF) ("Nepra" or the "Company") today announced the initial test Amazon launch of PROPASTA, the Company's flagship consumer pasta brand.

The launch introduces PROPASTA's new consumer format through Amazon and represents another step in the Company's ongoing commercialization of the brand.

Originally developed for professional foodservice applications, PROPASTA is now being introduced in a larger take-home format designed for households, active consumers and individuals seeking to incorporate more plant-based protein and dietary fiber into familiar meals.

"PROPASTA has been years in the making, from formulation and product development to learning how it performs in professional kitchens. Launching the new 16 oz format on Amazon brings the product directly to consumers designed for everyday use," said Chadwick White, Chief Visionary Officer of Nepra Foods.

A Familiar Food with a Different Nutritional Profile

PROPASTA is gluten-free, vegan and free from the nine major food allergens. The formulation incorporates hemp protein alongside pea protein, providing plant-based protein while maintaining hemp as a core component of PROPASTA's nutritional profile.

Each labeled 2 oz (58 g) dry serving provides 18 grams of protein and 10 grams of dietary fiber. A 3.5 oz dry portion provides 30 grams of protein and 17 grams of dietary fiber.

PROPASTA was developed to provide a different nutritional profile in the familiar and versatile format of pasta. The product can be paired with traditional pasta sauces, incorporated into baked dishes or pasta salads, and reheated for subsequent meals.

The new 16 oz resealable pouch provides a larger take-home format intended for households across several eating occasions. It also complements PROPASTA's existing foodservice activities and wholesale business.

The Company intends to use the initial launch to support consumer awareness and gather additional market feedback as it evaluates future production, marketing and distribution activities for the brand.

PROPASTA is now available through Amazon.com with plans to expand to Amazon Canada and Walmart.com.
