

Nextech3D.ai Surpasses $1 Million in New Customer Contract Value, Expands AI Software Portfolio with KATE and Grows Multi-Year Enterprise Agreements

180 New Customer Contracts, Approximately 80% Software Gross Margins and Growth in Multi-Year Enterprise Agreements Reflect Expanding Enterprise Adoption

NEW YORK CITY, NY AND TORONTO, ON / ACCESS Newswire / September 24, 2026 / Nextech3D.ai Corp. (CSE:NTAR)(OTCQB:NEXCF)(FSE:1SS) ("Nextech3D.ai" or the "Company"), an AI-powered software company focused on event technology and workforce intelligence solutions, today announced that from January 1, 2026 through September 23, 2026, it secured approximately $1.0 million in new customer contract value and signed 180 new customer contracts across its software platforms. New customer contract value represents the aggregate contracted value associated with new customer contracts entered into during the period and does not represent revenue recognized under IFRS. The metric excludes renewals, upsells, and expansion revenue from existing customers.

The Company also reported growth in multi-year enterprise agreements signed during 2026 and continued to generate software gross margins of approximately 80% across its software platform portfolio. Gross margin is calculated as software revenue less direct software delivery costs, divided by software revenue, and is provided as an operating metric to assist investors in understanding the economics of the Company's software business.

Key Highlights

- $1.0 million+ in aggregate new customer contract value.
- 180 new customer contracts signed across the Company's software platforms.

- Approximately 80% software gross margins across the software business.
- Growth in the number of multi-year enterprise agreements signed in 2026.
- Continued expansion of the Company's enterprise sales organization.
- Launch of KATE (Krafty AI Training Expert), expanding Nextech3D.ai's portfolio of AI-powered software solutions.

CEO Commentary

"We are encouraged by the continued adoption of our software platforms and the progress we are making with enterprise customers," said Evan Gappelberg, CEO of Nextech3D.ai Corp.

"In 2026, we surpassed $1.0 million in new customer contract value, signed 180 new customer contracts, expanded our enterprise sales organization, and increased the number of multi-year agreements across our customer base. We believe these metrics reflect growing demand for our software solutions and continued progress in our enterprise sales strategy."

"An important focus for the Company is increasing the proportion of longer-duration customer agreements, which can provide greater visibility into future business activity. We have also continued to invest in experienced enterprise sales professionals to support customer acquisition and account expansion opportunities."

"The launch of KATE represents another step in the expansion of our software portfolio. Together with Eventdex, Map D, and KraftyLab, KATE broadens our offering to enterprise customers and extends our reach into workforce training and knowledge management applications."
