TempraMed Announces Extension of Maccabi Healthcare Services Agreement

Maccabi exercises option to extend agreement for an additional year, reinforcing continued adoption of TempraMed's medication protection technology

Toronto, Ontario--(Newsfile Corp. - August 20, 2026) - TempraMed Technologies Ltd. (CSE: VIVI) (OTCQB: TMPTF) (FSE: 9DY) ("TempraMed" or the "Company"), a medical technology innovator focused on temperature-sensitive medication protection, is pleased to announce that Maccabi Healthcare Services ("Maccabi"), Israel's second-largest health maintenance organization ("HMO"), has exercised its option to extend its agreement with TempraMed for an additional year under the same terms. For more information on the Company's agreement with Maccabi, please refer to its press release dated December 8, 2025.

Maccabi serves more than 2.6 million members, representing a significant portion of Israel's population. TempraMed's product portfolio is currently available through Maccabi's healthcare network, providing members with access to the Company's patented temperature-protection technology for injectable medication, like Insulin, GLP-1, and peptides.

The decision by Maccabi to exercise its extension option provides further commercial validation of TempraMed's technology and its value within large, integrated healthcare systems. The Company believes the continued relationship demonstrates the relevance of its product portfolio for healthcare organizations seeking practical solutions to help protect temperature-sensitive medications and support patients managing chronic conditions.

"Maccabi's decision to extend our agreement for another year is an important vote of confidence in TempraMed and our technology," said Ron Nagar, CEO of TempraMed. "Serving an organization with more than 2.6 million members provides meaningful validation of our products within a large healthcare system. We believe relationships like this demonstrate the role TempraMed can play as we continue expanding our institutional, payer and healthcare partnerships globally."

TempraMed has sold approximately 150,000 devices globally and has established relationships with major healthcare and distribution organizations as part of its strategy to expand access to its medication protection platform.

Resignation of Board Member

The Company also announces that Nancy Goertzen has resigned from the Company's Board of Directors and from all Board committees on which she served, effective August 19, 2026. The Company thanks Ms. Goertzen for her service and contributions during her tenure and wishes her continued success in her future endeavors.
